

EDITH MAXWELL CONVICTED BY MOUNTAIN JURY

TEACHER WHO KILLED FATHER GETS 25 YEARS

Defense Sought To Prove Woman Was Defending Self

Wise, Va., Nov. 19.—(AP)—A Cumberland mountain jury tonight convicted Edith Maxwell, 21-year-old school teacher, and sentenced her to serve 25 years in the state penitentiary for the "brutal murder" of her father because he objected to her "running around" at night.

The defense had sought to prove that Trigg Maxwell, in a drunken condition, had tried to whip his daughter for keeping late hours and that Edith had defended herself with a high-heeled shoe snatched from the floor.

Apparently dazed by the verdict, delivered after a half hour's deliberation, the young woman turned an incredulous face toward her brother Earl, who stood beside her as she rose to hear the jurors' decision.

Her mother, Mrs. Anne Maxwell, under a joint murder indictment for her husband's death, fainted when the news was brought to her in a witness room. She will be tried at the March term of the Wise county circuit court.

When she saw her mother being carried from the building by Earl, Edith burst into tears and screamed hysterically. She tried to break through the crowd and reach her mother, but was restrained. She had partly regained her composure when Earl led her to her jail cell.

There was little demonstration on the part of spectators.

The court granted several days for defense attorneys to make application for a new trial.

Commonwealth's Attorney Fred B. Greaser said he was "well pleased" with the verdict, but defense counsel announced they would carry the case to the state supreme court of appeals if they were unable to get the verdict set aside and a new trial granted.

The case went to the jury early tonight after two days of testimony and argument.

Edith testified today, amid tears, that she struck her father as he attempted to whip her for staying out late at night.

The young school teacher said she struck in self defense with a woman's high-heeled shoe as Trigg Maxwell, village blacksmith at pound, tried to beat her while in a drunken frenzy. He died a few hours later.

The state charged premeditated murder, and endeavored to prove through witnesses that she hated her father and had made many threats to kill him. The death penalty was not asked.

All the testimony was completed late today and only arguments of attorneys remained before the jury would begin its deliberations.

Edith Maxwell denied making threats and said she "loved and respected" the father who, she said, was kind and loving when sober and mean when drinking.

Describing the fight with her father in the early hours of July 21, when she returned from a date with Raymond Meade near midnight, she said she did her best to ward off her father before striking him.

"I didn't know what to do," she said. "I wouldn't hurt him for anything in the world. I was frightened. I began to strike. I tried to get away. He jerked my clothing off on one side."

Edith said her father at first picked up a knife from the kitchen table, which he later dropped, then grabbed her by the hair. She said she wrenched free, ran from the kitchen into a dark bedroom and fell over a rocking chair on the slipper. She struck in the dark with the slipper, she said, as her father followed and did not know where the blows struck him.

"He bell when you can't even whip your own child," she quoted him as saying.

IL DUCE FIXES GOLD MONOPOLY U. S. IS WARNED

No Compromise With Nations Applying Sanctions

Rome, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini declared a monopoly on all of Italy's gold tonight as the nation stood firm on a program of no compromise with nations applying sanctions against it because of the invasion of Ethiopia.

Il Duce authorized the national institute for foreign exchange—with the cooperation of the ministry of finance and the supreme finance commission—to control all gold transactions of Italians at home and abroad.

Italians will not be allowed to sell gold without first offering it to the government monopoly, which agrees to return "in not more than one year" the same amount of gold of the same fineness.

The government offered 5 percent interest on gold turned over to the monopoly.

All sellers of gold must declare all their holdings, and must record every transaction. Importation of gold will be licensed. The ministry of finance was authorized to investigate past sales of the metal.

The program, seen as making possible the future requisition of private gold holdings, came after Fascist business authority, the grand council, was understood to have decided on continued resistance to penalties levied against it by the League of Nations, and to have planned further moves in the Ethiopian invasion.

Although a communiqué said only that the council heard and commented on Premier Mussolini's report of the political and military situation, informed foreign circles expressed the opinion Italy would "listen" for peace proposals, although not offering them.

These quarters said Italy would stand on a program of "watchful waiting" concerning non-sanctioned countries, such as the United States and Germany.

An official spokesman declared the United States will not receive special consideration if it adopts further restrictive measures as part of its neutrality program.

Herrin Grocer Is Killed In Pistol Fight With 2 Men

Herrin, Ill., Nov. 19.—(AP)—Will Hill, 35 years old, was shot and killed tonight in a gun battle with two holdup men shortly after he closed his neighborhood grocery store.

Two boys saw the men flee after the shooting to a car parked about a block from the scene.

One of Hill's shots, at close range, apparently set fire to the overcoat of one of the men. The boys said they saw the man slink away at the flames as he ran.

Hill, his emptied pistol in his hand, was found by the road about a half-block from the store. His day's receipts were in his pocket.

He had been shot once in the head and four times in the body.

Although the boys said they saw one of the men carrying a rifle, police in a search found only shells from two different kinds of automatic pistols. Apparently the rifle had not been fired in the battle.

Two bullets from Hill's gun were located in a nearby greenhouse. Unable to find the four others in a careful search, police surmised that one of both of the men may have been wounded.

A description of the two men, obtained from the boys, has been sent to officers in this area and hospitals have been warned to be on the lookout for men asking treatment for gunshot wounds.

Sought Advice Concerning Will

Chicago, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The first defense witness testified today that Mrs. Marie Louise Murphy deliberately excluded a brother and sister from her will disposing of a $600,000 estate.

P. L. McArdle, attorney for the Northern Trust Company, executors of the document, told the circuit court jurors hearing the brother's suit to set aside the will that Mrs. Murphy dictated in October, 1921, shortly after the death of her husband, Charles Webb Murphy, former owner of the Chicago Cubs. He related the widow had asked his advice concerning the will and told him:

"I've got a sister who has been a source of trouble to me and a humiliation to my husband and I've got to get her out of my house. I don't want to leave either of them anything."

George Krundick, a brother of Mrs. Murphy, instituted the current proceedings. A sister, Mrs. Millie Fry, had filed a similar suit. Both were cut off in the will.

Health Officer Starts Hunt For Poisoned Soda

San Francisco, Nov. 19.—(AP)—A search for 900 pounds of poisoned baking soda sold in San Francisco since October 23 started tonight under the direction of Dr. J. C. Geiger, city health officer.

Authorities said the soda already has brought death to three persons, Alfred Terry, 81; his daughter, Mrs. Bessie Shuffelt, 53; and Mrs. Marie Ogile, 60. All Dr. Geiger declared, had purchased the soda for medical purposes from the same department store.

Dr. Geiger said he feared further deaths will occur unless other soda sold by the store can be located.

It was not known how the poison got into the soda.

MAKE OPENING STATEMENTS IN SWINDLE CASE

Famous Drake Trial Expected To Last Five Weeks

Chicago, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The dusty legend out of which grew the mythical millions of Sir Francis Drake, and the human reality that kept it alive and prosperous for a quarter century, was today told to a federal court jury drawn to try 41 persons for mail fraud.

The prosecutor and the attorney for the defense were the narrators as they made their opening statements in a trial which was expected to last for five weeks and which the government hoped would forever lay the money-hungry ghost of the Buccaneers.

A jury to try the defendants on charges of swindling middle-westerners out of $1,350,000 on promises of a share in the Drake estate was completely drawn at 2 P. M. Assistant United States District Attorney Austin Hall proceeded at once with his opening statement.

He traced the start of the present alleged operations to a visit paid to England by Oscar Hartzel, alleged ringleader of the defendants, in 1918. He said the government will show that when Hartzel returned to the United States in 1933 he had collected $800,000.

For the defense, Attorney Edward J. Hens told the jury that the 41 men and women on trial never made any attempt to sell the scheme, but instead were simply Drake estate fans, who believed in the existence of the Buccaneers' booty, hoped for a share of it, and accepted money from neighbors to send it along with their own.

"We will not attempt to prove that there was such an estate," the attorney continued. "But we will prove that every one of these defendants firmly thought there was. If there were, well, that's too bad."

LANDS IN JAIL

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 19.—(AP)—Frank McGuff, Joliet, who tried to tear apart a candy machine in the lobby of the police station here this morning, was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct but was freed with the payment of a cash bond of $10.

McGuff walked into the police station about 5 a. m., saluted Sergeant Ben Little and proceeded to see how the machine worked, despite the warnings of Sergeant Little. It wasn't long before McGuff found himself "behind the bars." It cost $2 to repair the machine.

Roosevelt and Agriculture Program Targets of Attack By Milo Reno, Des Moines

Kankakee, Ill., Nov. 19.—(AP)—President Roosevelt and his agricultural program were the targets of attack in an address today by Milo Reno, Des Moines, Iowa, president of the National Farm Holiday Association.

Speaking before 4,000 delegates to the 31st annual convention of the National Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union, Reno branded the four billion eight hundred million dollar relief appropriation as "the corruption fund."

He said that many of the farm-union sponsored measures were defeated during the last session of congress "because of President Roosevelt's influence."

Reno ridiculed the term "corrupting president" as applied to Roosevelt. He was courageous enough to violate his campaign pledges," he said, "and he was courageous enough to violate the oath he took to defend the constitution."

He said that millions of farmers were forced by lack of funds to sign the federal corn-hog contracts.

"There is a money famine today," Reno said, "yet the government buried millions in gold in an underground vault in Kentucky."

Reno offered his solution for the nation's farm problem: "Let the government consider farm land as the country's basic asset," he said, "and not permit any man to own more land than he or his family needs for their existence and livelihood."

He declared that "there is no overproduction in the United States; not when millions of people are crying for food. The fact that people have no money with which to buy is the real depression trouble, and not overproduction."

At a pre-convention meeting, E. H. Emerson, St. Charles, S. D., president of the union, said in his annual message:

"Our national union has been accursed by some of hindering and hampering the administration at Washington. The facts are we have been doing our level best to help the administration redeem those solemn promises to American agriculture."

State delegations entered floats in a parade through Kankakee's business district tonight.

Principal speakers at tomorrow night's convention session will be Congressman William Lemke of North Dakota, co-author of the Frazier-Lemke farm bill, and I. M. Ornburn, Washington, representing the American Federation of Labor.

At tomorrow morning's session the delegates will hear Congressman Samuel M. Hays of Oklahoma, author of the cost of production bill, advocated by the farm union. He will be followed by Lynn J. Frazier, of North Dakota, the other author of the Frazier-Lemke bill.

F. D. R. ASSERTS NO STARVATION RELIEF POLICY

President Proposes Winter Conference On Taxation

Washington, Nov. 19.—(AP)—A "no starvation" federal relief policy was asserted to American mayors today by President Roosevelt.

Simultaneously, he proposed a winter conference looking toward "a better system of taxation, state municipal and federal."

Nearly half a hundred members of the United States Conference of Mayors gathered in the chief executive's office applauded a question asked at his earlier press conference, "Is the government going to stop direct relief next July?" and retold his reply:

"My answer was that the federal government, and I am sure your answer will be the same for the city governments, does not propose to let people starve after the first of July any more than during the past few years."

During the earlier meeting with newsmen, the president had expressed the hope the federal debt would end substantially by December 1. The original deadline for stopping direct relief was November 1.

When asked by newsmen if his statement meant projection of the work-relief program beyond July 1, Mr. Roosevelt said that would depend on conditions. He spoke of a last-minute check of relief needs before submitting next year's budget to Congress.

A number of the conference mayors, including Hoan of Milwaukee, their president, had stated earlier that cities could not assume the full burden of direct relief December 1. After the White House call, Hoan and his colleagues appeared encouraged by the "no starvation" statement.

At earlier meetings of the mayors, federal relief policies had a turbulent sea of criticism and defense, with Harry L. Hopkins asserting that criticism of his work program sprang from "ignorance, deliberate malice and knowing misrepresentation."

Mr. Roosevelt told the mayors "taxes have grown up like Topsy in this country," adding:

"We are stepping on each other's toes, especially in the past five, ten or fifteen years. In fact, virtually since the beginning of the World War, the general tax situation in the United States has become not only more complicated but has called for revision."

"I haven't had a revision and I think the time is coming—not this coming session of Congress because we hope that it will be a very short session—but by the following year, when all of us can get together and sit around a table and work out a better system of taxation, state municipal and federal."

"Late this winter we are going to ask you to come down and talk about that subject around the table. I suppose this meeting will be dignified by the name of a tax conference but I would rather keep it informal and have it become a continuing study which will bring forth an intelligent report before the close of the year 1936 x x x We will have to think of taxes in a non-partisan way."

ELECTRIC OUTPUT

Chicago, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The Standard Oil and Electric Company today announced an electric output of 93,391,000 kilowatt-hours for the week ending Nov. 16. The total represents an 18 per cent gain over the corresponding period of last year.

Mooney Conviction Was Unfair Judge Says At Hearing

San Francisco, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Thomas J. Mooney heard the judge who sentenced him to death testify today the internationally-known prisoner had been unfairly convicted.

In a hushed court room the pair exchanged glances for a dramatic moment in their first meeting since the sentence was pronounced in 1917 after Mooney's trial for the 1916 Preparedness Day bombing here.

Mooney, apparently unaffected by the meeting, followed Superior Judge Franklin A. Griffin to the stand to identify certain correspondence presented at his habeas corpus hearing.

Judge Griffin, who since the trial has repeatedly stated he believed Mooney was unfairly "even criminally" convicted, supported his contention under cross-examination by Assistant Attorney General William Cleary.

It was the suggestion of perjury cast on the trial testimony of Frank Oxman, prosecution witness that caused him to reach his conclusion about the conviction, Judge Griffin said.

He stated that during the trial he considered Oxman's testimony "the whole case for the state" and did not doubt at the time that the witness was telling the truth.

DARING ROBBERY

Springfield, Nov. 19.—(AP)—A daring daylight burglar this afternoon robbed the home of J. J. Joyce of $48, a pair of trousers, a pair of gloves and escaped after slugging 15-year-old Larry Joyce with a lead pipe when the latter surprised the thief in the home. Young Joyce was in the basement when he was attracted by some noise on an upper floor. Grabbing the pipe he went looking for the intruder. He found him, but the robber lunged at the boy, grabbed him and in a scuffle was able to take the pipe from the boy. He then slugged Joyce and escaped.

INCOME TAX SUIT

Los Angeles, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Trial of a government suit against Douglas Fairbanks, film actor, over $75,000 in income tax claims started today before Federal Judge William P. James with an attorney representing Fairbanks who is in England.

Fairbanks paid $33,231 under protest on his income tax in 1928, later refunded by the treasury, also under protest. The government charges that the actor not only owes this money, but also an additional $18,768 for 1929.

SOCIAL SECURITY AND PAUPER RELIEF BILLS MAY BE PASSED TODAY

PERMANENT AAA IS FORECAST BY CHESTER DAVIS

Will Promote Era Of Sound Farming He Declares

Washington, Nov. 19.—(AP)—A "great revolution" in the form of a permanent AAA intended to promote to an era of sound farming practices—was forecast tonight by AAA Administrator Chester C. Davis.

"We have turned too far from grace and good farming," Davis told delegates to the convention of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities. "Now we are turning back."

At the same meeting, Governor William I. Myers of the Farm Credit Administration predicted that federal land banks would shift from federal to private sources for funds within a few months.

"We have arrived at the point now," Myers said, "where we can see clearly that within a few months the federal land banks will return to the bond market to obtain the funds with which to make new farm mortgage loans."

The land banks had $1,000,000,000 in farm mortgage loans in 1933, Myers said, all of which was obtained by sale of bonds to the public. Since that time, he added, the loans had doubled—but through sale of bonds to the government. Myers said he believed emergency phases of the farm loan program were diminishing and said the FCA should within a few years have only the activities of a permanent, co-operative institution.

Discussing a permanent AAA, Davis said:

"Some effective economic management, such as the processing tax and rental and benefit payments now afforded, must be maintained. All transition steps must be based on education and understanding, support, not only on the part of the farmers, but the general citizenry."

Crippled Woman Receives Letters, Few Proposals

Kansas City, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Thousands of letters—some containing marriage proposals—were showered today on Miss Pauline Ray, paralyzed by an automobile accident three years ago, as she celebrated her 22nd birthday. Friends arranged the shower. They estimated nearly 4,000 messages were received.

The young woman, able only to move her head, read and talk, said the marriage proposals were "frightening and amusing."

ASSEMBLY IS NOW WORKING AT TOP SPEED

By Curtis R. Hay

Associated Press Staff Writer

Springfield, Nov. 19.—(AP)—As difficulties ironed out in a conference of leaders, the house worked at top speed in the late afternoon session today in an effort to reach adjournment by Thanksgiving Day.

One bill was passed and more than a score, including social security and pauper relief law amendments, advanced to third reading so that they could be passed tomorrow.

Word was issued by the majority leader, Benjamin Adamowski, that he agreed with Speaker John Devine that adjournment was possible next week and the house in a session that was almost perfunctory in its lack of debate, showed it was willing to pass needed bills and go home.

In another effort to speed adjournment, Thomas S. Sime, Rock Island Democrat, introduced a bill calling for appointment of a legislative committee to investigate unemployment commission problems and report to the next general assembly in 1937 by any special session of the present assembly.

If his bill is passed, it will remove one of the barriers to adjournment. According to an agreement reached during the day, the majority offered a dozen amendments to the bill providing for the administration of the old age pension bill passed last week. On the basis of the amendments, adopted administration of the pension would be by a county board of five members appointed by the county judge.

Only one proposal, that of Adamowski's for the state to pay Cook county's old age pension administration costs, was defeated by the dole members. Doole members must pay half the administration bill and their representatives said for Cook county to get all of their costs from the state would be unfair.

The house advanced to third reading a series of bills by Adamowski to return to the township the responsibility for pauper relief, fixing township power limits. In communities where the commissioner would act as overseer of the poor or delegate the work to the justice of the peace.

The single measure passed was a validating act which received a vote of 112 to 0.

Five bills in addition to Sime's were tossed into the hopper. Four of them related to the motor traffic code. John McHenry, Chicago Democrat, sponsored three of them. His bills would amend the traffic code to give jurisdiction in cases of violations to justices of the peace and police magistrates; regulate use of highways by trucks; require truck owners to carry public liability and property damage or give proof of financial responsibility and appropriate funds for administration of the code by a state traffic board.

Another traffic code bill, offered by E. F. Foster, Chicago Heights Republican, would permit diagonal parking on city streets that are 40 or more feet wide. All the traffic bills were advanced to second reading.

The other new measure was sponsored by Reed Cutler, Lewistown Republican. His bill was for validation of bonds to pay claims against cities for which the bonds were issued.

WILL KEEP HANDS OFF

London, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Authoritative quarters said tonight Great Britain will keep its hands off the North China autonomy movement, although the government views the situation with concern.

High quarters said they considered it obvious that Japanese were behind the secession movement, but added there was little Britain could do under the present circumstances.

Old Age Pensions

Considerable fault is being found with the pending old age pension law in Illinois. The bill has been passed by the House and is due to pass the Senate this week. It appears to be far more complicated than the previous law, which needed only an amendment that would permit the state to meet the requirements of the federal law and obtain half the necessary money from the federal treasury.

But the new law provides a sliding scale of pensions. The intent was to provide $1 a day for every needy person above 65 years of age. Certain simple rules to determine need were set forth in the original law. Just why an aged person who meets these requirements should still be wrapped about with red tape is not explained. Another phase of the charity legislation now pending is the effort to compel relatives to furnish support. An amendment to the law would make it possible for the state to sue relatives of pensioners to obtain repayment of pension claims. The law also provides that any pensions granted serve as claims of the state or federal government against the estates of pensioners, if any.

It thus appears that what the aged will get is not a pension at all. Only those who have absolutely nothing and no relatives able to support them will receive real pensions. Government relief is aimed always to apply where all other resources have been exhausted, and not to help worthy people maintain a decent standard of living and avoid the curse of poverty.

Transient Camps

Single men in Illinois have been having hard sledding in getting relief when they needed it. But now they are to be admitted to transient work camps located in various parts of the state. Places are open for nearly 1,400 men. Those in central Illinois will be sent to a camp on the Sangamon river.

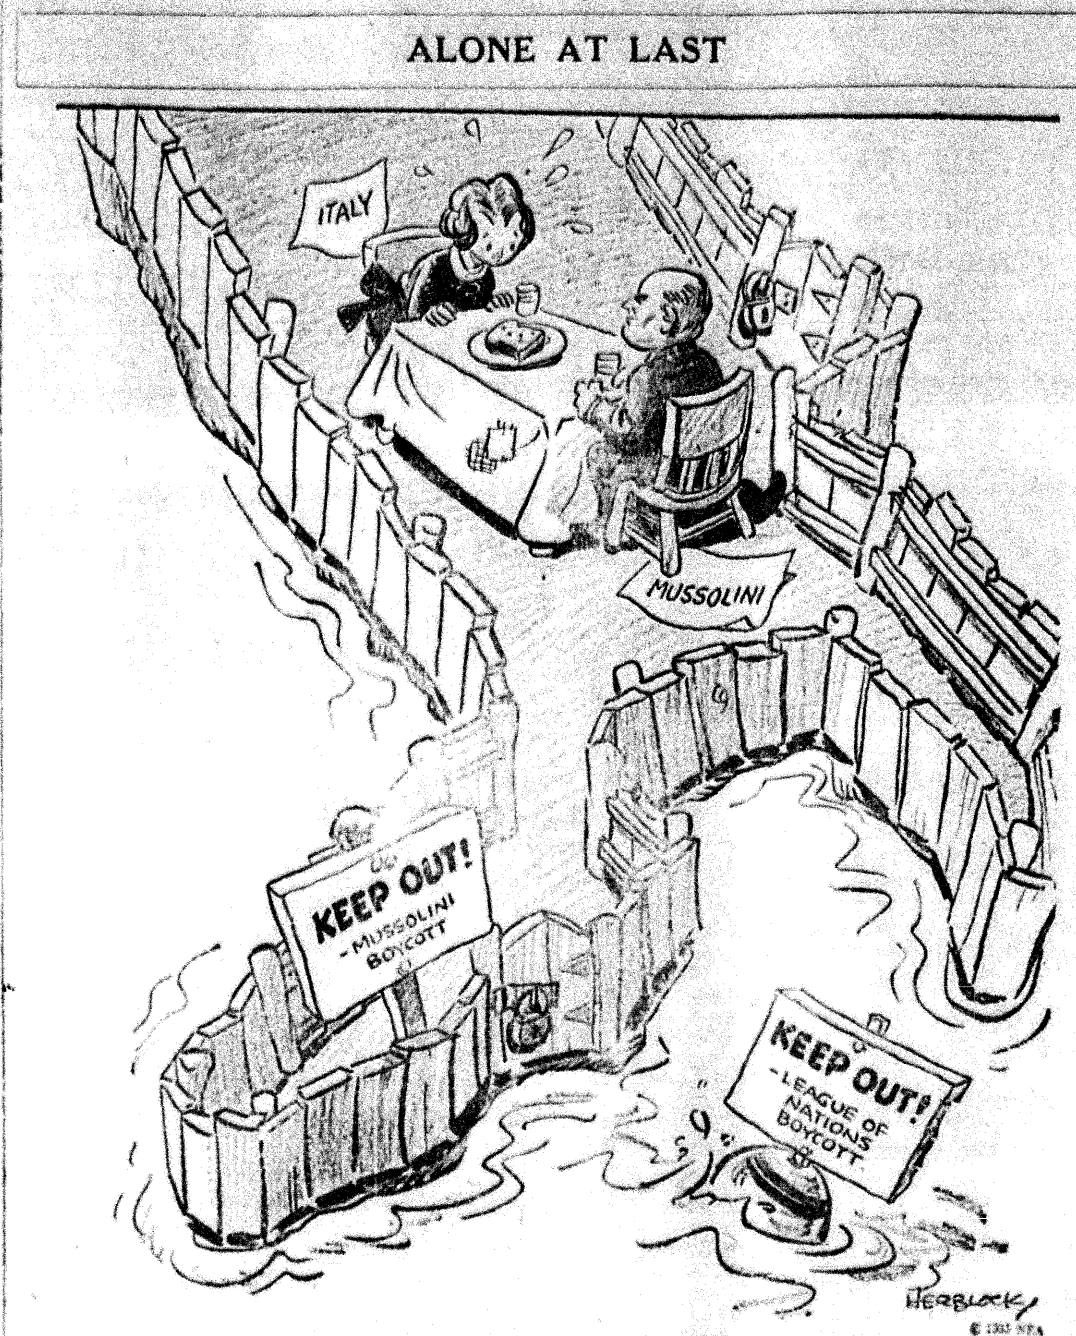

Not long ago a case came to light in this county. A single man, with no means of support wanted to enroll in the CCC. He assigned his pay to a friend, a war veteran who needed the money for support of himself and family. But the application was turned down because the assignment was not made to a relative. This man was thus deprived of a chance to work for his board and shelter.

Doubtless he will now be able to enter a transient camp and receive adequate support. In addition to food and shelter the men in the camps will get $1 a week. They will be assigned to various work projects.

Good Book Week

A program in the David Prince school celebrates Good Book Week. The schools, do much to encourage the reading of good books, which every young person can obtain at the public library. While books are often too expensive to buy regularly, the free library system makes it possible for all to read them and enjoy them.

Yet it is a good thing that boy or girl to own at least a few good books. They should be books that may be read with profit more than once. The modern methods of teaching reading have greatly increased the speed with which young people read, so that one reading of a book may not suffice for its thoro digestion. If the reader likes the book on first perusal, there is a strong urge to reread it.

There are literally thousands of good books for all ages. The modern press is prolific and authorship has to be expert today in order to bring an income. But books of former years are also available. The reader of today is heir to the culture of the ages, and there is no excuse for his failing to enrich his mind from the storehouse of books.

Independence Earned

The Philippine Islands do not constitute the largest or the most populous segment of land in the Far East; but as of today they are certainly the most unusual—and, in some ways, the most important.

For in these islands, for the first time, a great occidental power which took possession by force of arms has hauled down its flag and of its own volition restored freedom to a dark-skinned people.

Mamuel Quezon is now president of the Philippine Islands. A decade must pass before the transition period will be ended; nevertheless, President Quezon's inauguration was a momentous occasion. It signified the appearance in the Orient of a brand new policy.

It may well stand out as a beacon light for historians of the future.

Hard-Hearted Woman!

The female of the species may not be more deadly than the male, but she is a whole lot quicker to see through the wiles of her sisters.

A young woman was tried in Cleveland recently for murder. She had gone out with two boy friends to perform a stick-up in the course of which an unoffending shopkeeper was killed.

The two boy friends have already been sentenced to the electric chair, and when the girl came to trial about the only defense she could offer was that she had been led astray by evil companions.

The jury finally convicted her of manslaughter; but it is worth noticing that there were five women on the jury, and that they held out in vain for a first degree murder verdict.

They explained afterward that the male jurors felt sorry for the girl and wanted to see her given another chance.

For years, women at the bar of justice have traded on the male's easy propensity to pity his erring sister. Trial by juries of their own sex might be a wholesome corrective.

Department Ball 21 Years Ago Preceded Lumber Yard Blaze

Dance Planned for Nov. 28 is First Since Memorable B. P. Andrews Fire

Twenty-one years ago this Thanksgiving night firemen of the city held the last dance the department has staged until the present time. The firemen's and policemen's ball to be given Thanksgiving evening, Nov. 28, will almost mark the anniversary of one of the city's biggest fires, which occurred at 1:45 a. m. Nov. 27, 1914, within a short time after the last firemen's dance had closed.

That was the fire which destroyed the B. P. Andrews lumber yard, a brick fence store and four dwelling houses. Hardly had firemen wound up the job of staging their annual dance when they were called to don uniforms and fight a blaze that grew to menacing proportions before it could be brought under control.

The fire reduced the lumber yard and a large stock of lumber to ashes. It also burned a brick store building owned by H. K. Snyder and occupied by D. E. Higgins' feed business. The Stevenson boarding house and a dwelling occupied by A. L. Bacon were also destroyed, together with two houses on Main street owned by E. E. Hatfield.

The fire spread to the Crawford Lumber Co. plant, but was checked before it could destroy this property. However, it did some damage. The Andrews lumber yard was rebuilt during the following winter.

At that time firemen had an annual dance, but the custom was not continued after the big fire. The dance planned for next week marks a revival of the custom. The committee in charge has secured Don Ross' orchestra for the dance in the state hospital gym. This orchestra has recently completed an engagement of 22 weeks in Detroit.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

Ickes Is Willing to Battle Everybody Over Issue of German Steel ... But F. R. Labor, and Steel Trust Are Too Much for Harold ... He Goes Down Fighting and Still May Bring Grief on His Foes.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal and Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington.—When Mr. Harold Ickes goes on the spot, which is where you can find him on frequent occasions, the show is rather more likely to be diverting.

Even more fascinating are the behind-the-scenes movements as in the recent cause celebre of the German steel ordered by subcontractors on a couple of PWA projects.

Suddenly your Uncle Harold found himself sorely beset by the "Steel Trust," the American Federation of Labor, the Hearst press, and the large, motley collection of intra-administration enemies he has collected unto himself since March 4, 1933.

At the same time some of his subordinates were furnishing him defective factual ammunition with which to fight.

The odds were heavy. But I beg of you to believe that the Battling Bulldog of the cabinet was no whit afraid. If Papa Roosevelt hadn't intervened and told him to back down, you would be seeing Mr. Ickes out in the center of the ring, flailing away at all his foes in the most awesome of New Deal bouts to date.

A. F. of L. Aids Trust
Plain fact: Ickes had been unwilling to use the threat of German steel imports in a minor way as a club it was more like a wand over the "Steel Trust," whose companies had a way of submitting identical bids on PWA jobs which suggested the taxpayers were being collectively held up for exorbitant profits.

And Roosevelt had previously backed him up. But F. D. decided and cool feet when the steel industry, working through Matthew Woll, persuaded President Bill Green of the A. F. of L. to join the hue and cry against use of any foreign steel in any PWA project.

Months ago the steel industry, led by President Eugene Grace of Bethlehem (who was paid a bonus of $1,523,000 for his work in 1929), came here to protest the possibility that an ounce of foreign steel might creep into PWA jobs.

Some steel men said the differential should be 60 or 70 per cent.

There was much talk about "sweated foreign labor," but no one could show where any foreign steel had come in for any PWA project, so Ickes and Roosevelt sort of laughed it off.

Terrible Howl Rises
Then the Merchants City people decided they wouldn't pay 32 per cent more for a type of steel to which they said they preferred the German product anyway and insisted on saving $21,000 by buying German steel piling.

Steel propagandists spread the word among newspapers and soon there was a terrible howl, especially when it was learned the borough Bridge in New York was going to use a bit of German steel, too.

It all looked bad for the administration, and Ickes, whose personal enemies here helped spread the poison, was in a perilous position. He made a couple of fumbles when some of his own subordinates told him the Treasury Procurement Section was using and recommending a 15 per cent differential in federal projects—instead of 25 per cent, as it was—and advised him he had no responsibility in the matter. (Certain PWA officials have since been catching the devil.)

Ickes Good and Sore
Nevertheless, Ickes had seen $150,000,000 of PWA funds poured out to those few steel companies with their penchant for identical bids and seeming collusion. And he was good and sore now that the same companies were making a huge storm out of the first $100,000 worth of competition they had had in two years.

He was all set to blast the "Steel Trust" and refuse to give an inch and at the same time to toss a few grenades at Green and Woll with suggestion that they organize steel workers (in which they have notoriously failed) instead of helping the industry soak American taxpayers.

But he was told sternly by the White House that the administration couldn't afford to be put in a false position by its enemies, that he must increase the differential, and declare

Park Projects and Victory Drive May Get Under Way Soon

Plans Call for Improvements of Major Extent; To Build System of Roadways

With four WPA projects already under way, the city is awaiting the start of others. City Engineer Kenneth Stapleton stated yesterday that the next project to get going will probably be the improvement of Nichols park. City authorities are also eager to start work on Victory Drive.

The work at the park will be rather extensive, including some jobs of major proportions. A water main will be laid from South Clay avenue into the park for better servicing of the pool and more fire protection. Two new fire hydrants will be installed, one of them so located as to permit firemen to reach any building on the main grounds. A water line will also be laid to the new grandstand at the ball diamond.

Five miles of gravelled and oiled road will be built in the park. This includes surfacing of all present roads, and the routing of the road around the children's playground so dangers of crossing the drive to the playground apparatus will be eliminated.

It is also planned to erect a new and larger dining hall and summer house, to build many new picnic tables, and to remodel the interior of the bathhouse. Some changes may be made in the swimming pool, which include construction of a new wading pool for children.

The construction of Victory drive, encircling Mauvasterre lake and connecting with the Nichols park system, will be one of the largest projects to be undertaken. It will give employment to 115 men for a year.

ringingly against use of foreign products in PWA projects.

The backbone was far from complete. Ickes is submitting his "evidence of collusion" to the Federal Trade Commission and the steel industry may be in for publicity as embarrassing as it came Mr. Ickes. (Copyright, 1935, NEA Service, Inc.)

New Sewing Room For Relief Women

WPA Will Open Work Room at Morton School to Employ 45 People

Preparations are under way at the Morton school building for opening a new WPA project, which will be devoted to sewing, handcraft and comfort-making. Funds have been allotted which will provide employment for a total of 45 women, all of whom are now receiving direct relief.

Mrs. Tillie J. Kelly, relief administrator, is sponsor for the project for the county relief committee, and workers in the new sewing room will be certified through the National Employment Service. All products of the sewing room will be turned over to the Emergency Relief organization for use among its clients.

For several months the old Morton school building has been used as a canning factory by relief workers. This equipment is now being removed to make way for the sewing project.

This will be the second sewing room for women in Jacksonville since relief activities were started by the state and federal governments. Last winter more than 30 women were employed in a building on West Lafayette avenue, owned by Capps factory. The sewing room was closed in September when the state projects came to an end.

KING SOLOMON OF BROADWAY

Presenting—New York in its moods of purple and gold—resplendent and enchanted: Times Square with its throng of people, life and music. Romance in top hat and silver sandals—all to be seen in this new and gay musical comedy "KING SOLOMON OF BROADWAY," starring Edmund Lowe and featuring two new screen stars, Dorothy Fae, beautiful singing radio star, and Pinksy Tomlin, the college boy who in less than a year has taken Hollywood by storm with his refreshing personality. Today only at the FOX ILLINOIS. Passes today for Miss Sade Lynch 135 Pine Street.

HI GAUCHO

BLENDING romance and action into a splendid whole "HI GAUCHO," RKO Radio's new screen musical, presents a faithful picture of warm-blooded, reckless life in the Argentine during its pioneer days.

The background of the picture is highly colorful. The romance is motivated by a gauchito and an aristocratic senorita. The first meeting of the youthful hero and heroine, their dance together, scenes of balcony scenes, and a kidnapping add to the love interest of the colorful film, which is balanced by exciting chases, bucking horses, stage-coach hold-ups, arrests and battles.

John Carroll, new screen "find," plays the romantic lead, with Stefania Duna as his opposite. Rod LaRocca also has a prominent part. Opens today at FOX MAJESTIC. Passes today for E. G. Stibley, 322 E. Vandallia Road.

ANNA KARENINA

"Anna Karenina" with Greta Garbo and Fredric March is the third cinema version of Count Leo Tolstoy's masterpiece. Fox made the first in 1915. The second called "Love and Marriage" John Gilbert was distinguished by the passionate eye-rolling of Gilbert. The current edition opens at the FOX ILLINOIS Thursday, substitutes a thoroughly sane characterization of Anna by Greta Garbo and a decent respect for the intentions of its original. The second and third versions of Anna Karenina still have two important things in common. These are a superb portrayal of Anna by Greta Garbo and a story which, like many masterpieces of the world's literature, could scarcely have been better suited to the purposes of Hollywood.

MUTINY ON THE BOUNTY

Your Screen Reporter wishes to call to your attention the new picture which opens Sunday at the FOX ILLINOIS "MUTINY ON THE BOUNTY." This picture has been proclaimed the greatest of all sea dramas, which was more than a year in the making at a cost of more than $2,000,000. Aside from entertainment, it presents an authentic visual document of one of the most notable chapters of maritime history—the mutiny on the H.M.S. Bounty one hundred and fifty years ago. In the annals of the sea there is no more fascinating story than that told of the Bounty which set sail from England in 1787, bound for Tahiti. Included in the cast, which is headed by Charles Laughton, Clark Gable and Franchot Tone, are Eddie Quillan, Herbert Mundin and Dudley Digges.

Farm Home East of Roodhouse Catches Fire, Is Destroyed

Clyde Strawmatt Residence is Total Loss; Family Moves to Box Car

Roodhouse.—At 9 o'clock Sunday morning, the six room country home where Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Strawmatt and three children lived, five miles east of Roodhouse, caught fire from a defective flue and burned to the ground. The Strawmatt family had been away from their home about thirty minutes when the fire was discovered by neighbors and did not learn of their misfortune until their return from Roodhouse. The house was owned by Frank Patterson of Roodhouse, and was partly covered by insurance.

Neighbors were able to get most of the furniture, bed clothing, utensils, and fruit out before it gained too much headway. The Strawmatt family will occupy an empty box car on the farm until a house can be built, as Mr. Patterson has announced will be done at once.

Methodists To Meet Christian

By Felix R. McKnight
Associated Press Staff Writer
Dallas, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Southern Methodist and Texas Christian Universities, both unbeaten and untied, are traveling through the football air lanes in a wild scrap to give the south west its first Rice Bowl game.

On campuses little more than a whop and a holler apart—the Methodist Mustangs at Dallas and the Christian Frogs at Fort Worth—the squads leveled off today in practice drills that injected more pass puzzles into their play.

Both have nine games and nine victories behind them. Both used aerial deception to reach this point undefeated. And both will shower leather in their Nov. 30 game to prove which is the southwest's best.

Both have played the north Texas Teachers, Tulsa University, University of Texas and University of Arkansas. The Mustangs trimmed the North Texas Teachers 39-0; Tulsa, 14-0; Texas 20-0 and Arkansas, 17-6. Texas Christian subdued North Texas 28-11; Tulsa, 13-0; Texas 28-0 and Arkansas, 13-7. In the comparative games, the Methodists scored 96 points to six; the Christians 82 to 18.

Standouts, all potential All-American timber, sprinkle the Methodist and Christian line-ups.

The Christians face powerful Rice Institute, toast of the southwest, in 1934 and beaten only by Southern Methodist this season, in a game Saturday at Fort Worth that might change the complexion of the "two-team" race. The Methodist must conquer their old jinx—the Baylor University Bruin.

The Methodists have amassed 234 points to the opposition's 18. The Christians have total 211 points to the enemy's 39. The Methodist have Baylor, Texas Christian and Texas A. and M. to hurdle for a spotless year, the Christians—Rice, Southern Methodist and Santa Clara.

Walter O. Briggs To Control Tigers

Detroit, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Full ownership of the world's champion Detroit Tigers, it was announced today, will be acquired by Walter O. Briggs, Detroit industrialist and sportsman who for 15 years was the silent partner of the late Frank J. Navin in control of the club.

The 36-year-old manufacturer who careered him from benchwork in a factory to millions as head of the automobile body concern that bears his name, disclosed his plans in a statement issued through Charles P. Navin, club secretary and nephew of Frank Navin.

Briggs' decision to place himself at the helm of one of the most valuable properties in the American league was based on an option agreement with "Uncle Frank" Navin, whose frictions conduct of the front office during his three decades as club president was the envy of other owners.

No announcement was made of the value of the Navin holdings, which were estimated at far over $1,000,000 before the whirlwind pennant campaign of the last two seasons, were followed by the winning of the world series. Navin left the use of his estate to his widow, Mrs. Grace S. Navin, with provision for a distribution after her death.

Mickey Cochrane, fiery player-manager whose purchase for $100,000 two years ago Briggs strongly advocated, apparently is certain to remain in active charge of the team. Briggs said today in Miami Beach, Fla., where he is spending the winter, that he regarded Cochrane as "the greatest manager" in baseball. But he did not discuss his plans regarding the presidency of the club.

Fan Breezes

By Ernest Savage

M. G. "Dinty" Moore, Alesey school chief, and long known as the football and basketball rules authority in this area, will conduct the basketball rules interpretations meeting to be held tonight at the local high school.

Probably the most outstanding change this year is the rule governing players around and in the free throw circle.

"A player may not remain in his free throw area, WITH OR WITHOUT THE BALL, for more than three seconds while the ball is in play and in possession or control of his team. Obviously this is a further restriction on the 'pivot-post' or 'bucket' play. Much of the roughness arising from this play is due to the fact that the player is in the free throw area, in many instances they have permitted defensive players to hold, push, or otherwise foul the pivot player, and have ignored pushing, charging, or tripping on the part of the pivot player. These difficulties can be cleared up if Officials will enforce the Rules. It is senseless to talk about 'lack of uniform interpretations' in this connection; holding, pushing, and charging are fouls in every game, wherever played, and should be regarded as such by all Officials," says the rule book in commenting on the change.

Oswald Tower, in his comment on the new rule, says "This play (referring to the 'pivot post' play) has been further restricted by limiting to three seconds the time a player may remain in his own free throw lane while the ball is in play and in possession or control of his team."

Will Pick All Star Grid Team

By Alan Gould

Associated Press Sports Editor
New York, Nov. 19.—(AP)—With the tests of fitness for All-American football rating now approaching the semi-final stage, it seems well established that the chief sources of all-star supply are the southwest, Big Ten and Southeastern conferences.

By and large, the teams in these groups have been meeting more rugged opposition and the leaders have been turning in more impressive performances than the squads in any other conference.

Minnesota and Ohio State from the Big Ten, Southern Methodist, Texas Christian and Rice from the southwest, Louisiana State and Alabama in the southeastern sector represent what Yale, Harvard, Pennsylvania and Princeton meant to the game in the early nineties. These seven powerhouses of the middle west and south, combined, have lost only four games all season.

Since there must be some good individual reasons for this, let's scan the latest selection reports.

Big Ten—canvass of coaches and officials unanimous that Jay Bertranger, Chicago, outstanding back in every department of game, Iowa's Ozzie Simmons best ball-carrier in conference. Two best fullbacks and blockers are Sheldon Beale, Minnesota, and Dick Crayne, Iowa. Merle Wendt, end, and Gomer Jones, captain and center, most consistent performers of Ohio State squad. Minnesota's tackles, Dick Smith and Earl Widdish, head and end, stand above any other pair with Widdish having slight edge.

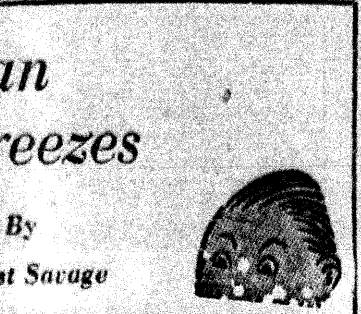

Northwestern's Paul Tangora best running guard in conference. Southwest—Bobby Wilson, 150-pound Southern Methodist star, best of unusual array of backfield talent. List also includes John McCauley, Rice quarterback; Sammy Baugh, Texas Christian quarterback; Bill Walker, Rice and a 192-lb. All-American back, Jim Lawrence, Texas Christian halfback. Darrell Lester, Texas Christian's 193-lb. All-American center, a standout on defense, especially against passes, but has rival in Nicholls of Rice. Tackles of all-star caliber include Truman Spain, Southern Methodist, best in the conference. Southern Methodist offers best pair of guards in "Iron Man" Weikel and Maurice Orr. Howell of Arkansas, Sylvester of Rice and Wray of Baylor leading ends.

Southeastern—Riley Smith, Alabama quarterback, ranking candidate for All-American backfield honors. Rated most valuable players for any team in conference—Jess Fetherstone, Louisiana State, developed as a standing ball-carrier; Gaynell Tinsley, Louisiana State, considered by coaches as best all-around end in conference. Vanderbilt's captain, Willie Gony, an exceptional pass-receiver. Best tackles are Whitley, Alabama; Rukus, Louisiana State, and Patterson, Auburn. Gilbert of Auburn an outstanding center.

Other parts of the south, as well as the east, mid-west and far west have

The pivot should be allowed to shoulder or hip his opponent out of position, not to interfere with the latter's freedom of motion by the use of extended elbows or arms, after he has thrown the ball. On the other hand, the guard should not be allowed to interfere with the pivot's freedom of motion by the use of the arms, knees or other part of the body.

Anyway, the 30 pages of basketball rules look like the 83 pages of football rules.

There are a couple basketball games listed for tonight, too. Ashland will carry its cause to New Berlin, and Chapin will appear against Woodson at Murrayville.

The Ashland Panthers Friday night will go on to Franklin for another game, while Rockbridge and Chesterfield tangle farther down the line.

Jacksonville's project for two new school buildings, if it is accepted, will provide the youth of the city with the best of physical education facilities. New gymnasiums, similar to the one which has been such a big hit over in the fourth ward, will be included in both new buildings, we learn.

We do hope that the architect can find some means of providing some room for spectators in these new schools. There would be more persons watching athletic events if there was some place for them to sit, but neither the Washington or Jefferson school plants contemplated any spectators at any of the events.

Slope Bowl Rival To Be Named Nov. 29

By Alan Gould

Associated Press Sports Editor
New York, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The annual California-Stanford grid classic at Palo Alto Saturday in all probability will decide which team represents the west in the Rose Bowl game, official announcement will not come until Nov. 25.

This was the statement today from the office of Prof. Hugh C. Willett, chairman of the Pacific Coast conference.

At the same time, the faculty representative from Southern California made it plain that there was no rule of any sort which bound the team selected to confine its search for a suitable opponent to given geographical boundaries.

Asked whether Southern Methodist or Texas Christian, two undefeated teams in the southern conference, were eligible because of their location, Professor Willett said:

"Certainly Southern Methodist or any other team in the Southwest Conference could be selected if the team awarded the Rose Bowl right by the Pacific Coast conference so decided."

"After all," he added, "the east, from our point of view, covers a good deal of territory."

Neither the Pacific Coast conference nor the tournament of roses officials have the power to dictate to the western representative who its opponent shall be, Professor Willett said.

EARL COMBS RETIRES

New York, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Earl Combs, veteran New York Yankee outfielder, is through as an active player, but will be retained as coach, replacing Joe Sewell. Manager Joe McCarthy announced today.

McCarthy said Sewell would sign with some minor league club as manager. Reports have had it that Sewell will take Bob Shawkey's place at the helm of the Newark Bears, a Yankee farm team. The New York official refused to say.

McKendree Huskies Have Power Team

Coch Paul Waldorf Has Tackle Weighing 236, Half-back Near 200 Pounds

Plenty of beef and plenty of speed will make McKendree college of Lebanon one of the toughest teams Illinois College has met in the Little 19 conference this year. Coach Ray Nuss-pickel believes. The Blueboy coach began getting ready for one of the teams that has remained at the top of the conference race ever since it got underway, and one of the teams that has habitually been near the post of the league.

Coached by Paul Waldorf, son of Bishop E. Lynn Waldorf of the Chicago district of the Methodist church, and a brother of Lynn Waldorf, coach at Northwestern University, the Bears have been busily piling up an outstanding record in football for the past few years. This is Waldorf's second year as head of the Bearcat athletics.

That they will be plenty of beef to combat, as well as speed, was shown in the scouting report of Don Overbey, Overbey has been watching the Bears through several games this year, and has found a 236 pound tackle and a 196 pound halfback, both of whom are Big Ten material.

McKendree formations last night when the coach went over the McKendree defensive set-up, and arranged his plays so that they might function more smoothly against the conference leaders. He will present a few samples of the McKendree offense later in the week in order to have his defense set.

Cardinals Will Trade Players

By Alan Gould

St. Louis, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Retribution is facing all but eight of the thirty-eight "Gas House Gang" Cardinals who weakened last fall and permitted the Chicago Cubs to take the National League pennant.

Branch Rickey, vice-president of the Red Birds, made his desires clear today before he departed for a major league baseball meeting in Dayton, O. The Cardinals may not do much trading in Dayton, but deals are certain to be sought.

Jerome and Paul Dean and Jess Haines, pitchers; Joe Medwick and Terry Moore, outfielders, and Leo Durocher and James (Ripper) Collins, infielders, were named by Rickey as players sure of 1936 berths.

Manager Frank Frisch, a second baseman, nearing the end of his playing days, already is under contract.

But in the words of Master Farmer Rickey "it would be risky to wager where the other players will be next season."

Last year the Cardinals gambled with rookies from their numerous minor league farms, and lost.

Among the players Rickey did not name as fixtures was the 5-time pennant winning club were Pepper Martin, hero of the 1931 world series; Charley Gehrert, infielder who made a comeback last year after a gunshot wound received in training which almost ended his playing day; Bill Dancy, young catcher recovering from a serious illness; and Bill Hallahan, left handed pitcher who brought the Cards back into the pennant race in mid-summer this year, then lost his effectiveness.

With only three pitchers listed for 1936, Rickey was asked if he expected to obtain mound talent from the minors.

"No, I cannot say that there is much comfort to be found in an inspection of minor league prospects," he said.

Senator Monroe in Address Discusses Security Program

Talks to Illinois College Students on Laws for Social Betterment

Senator James O. Monroe of Collinsville, talked to the students of Illinois College yesterday on social security legislation. Senator Monroe, who is an alumnus of Illinois, discussed recent enactments of Congress and the bills that are before the state legislature in Springfield at present. He characterized the attempts of the national government at social legislation as "dabbling in planned economy," and stated that if a change is to be made it should come about through a period of years and not during the course of one administration.

"The ideology of social security," Senator Monroe stated, "is essentially that of socialism."

He went on to state that the legislation is urged by so-called progressive, marxists or communists, the dispossessed or those who have nothing and have little chance for obtaining anything, and idealists such as Beard, Tugwell, and Chase.

"If you destroy ambition you have destroyed the urge for living," stated the speaker. "Cattle in the field have mere subsistence, and they are not human. In my opinion the majority of the American people still hold to the feeling that they should achieve for themselves."

In commenting on the activity of the Supreme Court in declaring the acts invalid, the senator stated that this was the correct attitude of the court. If there is to be a change it should come about through the people in a democratic manner, that is by amendment to the Constitution.

"But what sort of an amendment should we make?" asked the speaker. "If you can write one, without going the whole socialistic route, you are qualified to work puzzles. There seems to be no middle ground between individualism and socialism."

In discussing the two bills up before the state assembly at Springfield, the senator said that he favored the old age pension act but predicted that the legislature would not pass the unemployment insurance bill this session. He questioned the right of the state to tax payrolls and said that the state taxing power had been stretched to the limit in the sales taxes.

Corn Values Are Two Cents Higher

By John P. Boughan, Associated Press Market Editor.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—(P)—Brisks upturns of corn prices today hoisted the market for that cereal 2 cents a bushel.

Complete exhaustion of supplies of corn in Chicago public elevators gave emphasis to reports of extraordinary delays to corn movement because of abnormal lateness and wetness of the country's 1935 corn crop. It was authoritatively asserted the existing unfavorable situation as to corn is the worst of the kind since 1917.

The corn market closed firm, 1-1/2 above yesterday's finish, Dec. 14-1, wheat 4-1/2 up, Dec. 87-1/2, oats at 1 showing 2 cents to 5 cents setback. Roused as if out of trance, the corn market began to soar soon after trading began. Moist weather prevailed generally in the corn belt states, adding to continued accumulation of handpicks against maturing and moving of the new corn crop. Special notice by many traders was taken of Iowa reports that although for the most part corn husking would be completed this week, farmers showed no disposition to put the grain on the market, and that it looked as if temporary scarcity might develop.

Stock Prices Pushed Upward

By Frank MacMillan

Associated Press Financial Writer
New York, Nov. 19.—(P)—Wall street bull forces gave stocks a brisk last hour forward shove today which again established average prices at a new high for more than 4 years.

Many individual issues advanced 1 to 4 points or more. Persistent buying in a number of selected groups finally turned a firm market into a bull parade in the final hour of trading.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 7 of a point to 56.1, the best since September 4, 1931. While the pace of transactions was slower on an hourly basis, there for several sessions past, dealings were decidedly brisk in late trading. Turnover in the stock exchange was 2,910,580 shares.

Radio was one of the most active trading issues, up more than a point to a new high at 111, and Anaconda was in active demand in the final hour with an advance of about as much as 24.

American Can was ahead more than 4 points at 174. Kennecott improved only fractionally at 28 1/2, as directors declared a dividend of 20 cents. The stock had previously been on a 15-cent quarterly basis.

Miss Grace Knopp is MacMurray Speaker

Spanish Teacher Addresses Students During Y.W.C.A. Chapel Service

Miss Grace Knopp, Spanish instructor at MacMurray College, spoke at the Y. W. C. A. chapel yesterday. Her subject was "The Spanish Woman Student of Today as I Saw Her."

Miss Knopp spoke of some mistaken ideas of Spain, among them the ideas of the cruel life of the Inquisition, and again the romantic Spain of the motion pictures.

There are still today many cities of romance such as Granada and Madrid, but the true Spain would in all probability disappoint the romance seeker. The Spanish woman of higher class, until about 35 years ago, was rather restricted, and never went out alone, but in the company of some member of her family or a professional chaperone. Today this restriction remains among women of the more conservative group, though the modern woman of Madrid is allowed much more freedom.

Still may be found in the smaller towns the old custom of courting through the latticed window, and the young men often may be seen at evening standing close to a wall whispering to the senorita within.

The Spanish woman student of today, in some localities may receive a rather superficial education; in other places they are allowed more liberal education in universities and colleges. Here they meet men on an equal basis of comradeship not found in other places.

On the universities grounds is found a group of some five or six buildings created especially for the residence of girl students. There girls are cared for in much the same manner as in American dormitories.

LESS EXPENSIVE DAIRY FEED HELPS RAISE NET RETURN

Urbana, Ill.—More than one Illinois farmer is making the most of the improved prices for dairy products by adopting economical feeding methods, according to reports reaching J. G. Cash, dairy husbandry extension specialist at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Savings made through more economical feeding are only one of the many ways in which more than 1,100 farmers of the state are members of dairy herd improvement associations are finding that they can increase their returns, he said.

Substitution of home-grown grains for more expensive protein feeds together with replacement of part of the corn by oats are two ways by which Illinois dairymen are finding it possible to cut feed costs without lowering their herd production averages.

One member of the McLean county No. 1 association increased his monthly net income from 17 cows by $10.88 with a less expensive ration. Oats replaced a part of the corn in the ration, thus reducing the cost of feed approximately 24 cents a hundred pounds. His herd also produced 34 more pounds of butterfat a month on the cheaper feed.

Another McLean county dairymen belonging to association No. 2 increased his net income $11.55 a month through the same kind of a ration change.

A member of the Vermilion-Edgar county association used a ration composed of corn, oats and distiller's grain instead of corn and a high protein supplement previously used and was able to cut feed costs by nine cents a hundred pounds, although the protein content was the same. The cheaper ration reduced the feed cost of butterfat by five cents a pound and the feed cost of milk by 14 cents a hundred pounds, Cash said.

Arthur Hull, Badly Hurt by Car, Makes Slight Improvement

Runs Into Side of Auto, Injuring Head; Reported Semi-conscious

Arthur Hull, 18, who was seriously injured about 2 o'clock Monday afternoon when he collided with a car on West State street in front of the high school, was in a semi-conscious condition yesterday at Passavant hospital. Dr. F. A. Norris stated that there was a slight improvement and that

Hull is holding his own. However, he was not in a condition to permit the taking of x-ray pictures of his injuries, which appear to be in the head. The car was driven by Miss Kathleen Wagner.

Hull, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hull of 858 Case avenue, had started across State street toward the automobile of Dean Smith. He with a group of other students were going to the mechanics shop at the corner of East Independence and Clay avenue for the regular class work.

Dean Smith, Merle Erwin and Floyd Wilson, two students, had already crossed the street and were followed by Hull and Walter Gilmore. Gilmore was only two feet behind Hull when the accident happened. Gilmore said that Hull ran into the side of the car and was knocked to the pavement, alighting on his head and shoulder. The boys placed the injured student in Smith's car and took him to Passavant hospital. He was bleeding from the nose and mouth.

After seeing that Hull had received proper attention Miss Wagner went to the police station and reported the accident.

Hull is a carrier boy for the Jacksonville Courier, his route being thru the southwest portion of the city.

Glenn long has been regarded as a likely candidate for the Republican nomination for governor next year.

Jap Ambassador to China Expected to Leave for Nanking

New North China Section May Be Proclaimed Without Manifestations

Shanghai.—(AP)—Utmost significance was attached today to the impending departure of Akira Ariyoshi, Japanese ambassador to China, for Nanking in view of the apparent imminence of a declaration of North China independence.

Japanese sources said Ariyoshi expected to leave tonight for the central Chinese government capital, and would confer Wednesday with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

All news of North China developments was excluded rigidly from the Chinese press, but a belief was growing both here and at Nanking that the way was smoothed for forthcoming changes without any violent manifestations.

Ariyoshi was expected generally to seek to quiet further any Nanking apprehensions.

Reports from the north stressed an intention by leaders of the autonomy movement not to compromise with Nanking over the political authority proposed for the northern provinces.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and other militarists of the central Chinese government were widely rumored to be planning to adopt a stern stand against the movement for independence.

An official of one Chinese government department told the Associated Press, "we have been instructed to be prepared for any eventuality."

Many churches in Australia observed a recent Sunday as a day of special intercession of peace in Ethiopia.

Grange Asks Change In Canadian Treaty

Sacramento, Calif.—(AP)—A plain-spoken demand for repudiation of the new trade treaty with Canada headed the list of 1936 policies of the National Grange today.

The Grange unanimously adopted a report of its legislative committee warning the compact would prove "injurious rather than beneficial" and announced a campaign for repeal of the reciprocal tariff act at the next congress unless the various trade treaties are annulled.

Debate on other policies got under way with three days remaining of the 69th annual convention.

Louis J. Taber of Columbus, O., was re-elected national master for the seventh consecutive time yesterday. The 1936 convention was awarded to Ohio. The executive committee will select the city.

James McSherry department director, reported production so far this year was 7.9 per cent above the five-year average.

The month's production was a gain of 907,615 over October, 1934, and an increase of 1,799,762 over last September.

Coal production so far is within 9,000,000 tons of last year's total output of 41,724,078 tons.

The GOLDEN FEATHER

by Robert Bruce © 1935 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
JEAN DIDN'T delay her answer when BOBBY WALKER asked her to marry him. At The Golden Feather she met SALLY HARKINS whose business connection is vague. Sally introduced Bobby and Jean to her mother, Mrs. LEWIS. Bobby says she has a car.

LARRY GLENN, federal agent, is trailing WINGY LEWIS, bank robber. He hears about the bank transaction and questions Bobby. Larry believes the bank Lewis bought is armored. Bobby and Jean agree to a secret engagement with him. The bank of which her father is president is robbed, and Larry starts a search for the robbers.

JEAN goes to see Sandy who has been injured. He and the Lewises are staying at a farmhouse. She soon finds herself a prisoner. The whole party leaves the farm.

Meanwhile Larry has discovered Jean is with the robbers. He and his men reach the house where the gang is. From an upstairs window Jean sees Larry. He calls out and is answered by a gangster, Jean faints.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XLII
WHEN Jean fainted, the last sounds she heard were the ear-splitting noises of a large-scale and sustained gun battle. When she awoke from her stupor, three or four minutes later, the sounds were still in her ears.

She lay on the floor of the bedroom, blinking at the darkness, as her senses returned. Someone had come into her room and was kneeling there, tense and motionless, for a moment; then his trigger finger moved, and the sharp rattat-tat of his weapon drowned out all the other noises.

Acrid powder smoke was on her lips and in her eyes, as she lay there dully watching.

The man had stopped firing, and doled down below the window sill, his bulky weapon clutched in his hands, its muzzle touching her knee. The man blinked and saw her crouching figure in the dusk.

"Hey!" he said hoarsely. "Who is it?"

JEAN made no answer, and the man evidently took it for granted that she had been killed. He wasted no time in vain regrets, but slowly raised himself to peer out of the window. After a long look, he got to his knees again and raised his weapon to shoot; but before he could press the trigger he unexpectedly spun half around, teetered drunkenly on his knees, and then collapsed on his face. The machine gun lay beneath him. Jean found herself stupidly wondering if it wasn't an awfully uncomfortable thing to lie on—until, suddenly, she realized that the man was dead.

WITH this realization the lethargy that had held her seemed to fall away.

She raised herself to her hands and knees, conquering her revulsion, she crawled to where the dead gunman lay. She wanted a weapon and she meant to have one.

Tugging at his shoulders, she rolled him over. The sub-machine gun lay there, vicious-looking, and she realized, altogether too complicated to do her any good even if she did take possession of it. Did this man carry a revolver? Jean bent closer. His coat had fallen back, and a shoulder holster was visible under his left armpit. She reached in, pulled out a revolver, and looked at it curiously.

There was a momentary lull in the firing, and a whitethe firing; and in the lull Jean heard hurried footsteps coming along the hall. A voice called, "You! Spike, in there—what's that?"

She moved before she had time to think—one quick lunge that hid her in the shadows in the corner of the room. The door swung open and someone came in and went to where the dead man lay. Jean could see him squatting down, could hear him mutter something; then she saw him pick up the machine gun and move cautiously toward the window.

As he came into the moonlight, she saw his face. It was Red Jackson.

JEAN never quite knew, afterward, how she managed to do what she did then. She could only remember raising the heavy revolver, gripping it with both hands, pointing it at the man at the window, shutting her eyes tightly, and squeezing the trigger.

Then, for the second time that night, she collapsed in a faint.

To Decide Three Propositions At School Election

Voters To Ballot On Two Buildings And Bond Issue Tuesday

Three propositions will be submitted to the voters of school district 117, comprising the city of Jacksonville, Nov. 26, when the issue of accepting the government's offer, through the PWA of a grant of $92,454 for the purpose of constructing two new school buildings will be decided.

The issues, as declared to be necessary by Chasman and Cutler, bond experts whose opinion is necessary in order to provide a sale of bonds to be floated to provide the school district with sufficient funds to carry their share of the improvements, are: Shall the school district be authorized to build a new grade school building in the second ward; Shall the school district be authorized to build a new grade school building in the third ward; and shall the school district be authorized to issue bonds for this purpose.

If the buildings are voted and the bond issue carried, the board will be authorized to replace two units which now are regarded as highly unsafe, which have been characterized as fire traps, and which have been in service for over 60 years. The two units have a large number of wooden joists and floors in them which during the period of use have dried out so thoroughly that they are considered as hazardous.

Replacing Program.
The program of replacing antiquated school buildings, began by the Board of Education nearly ten years ago, was halted by the depression and bank failure.

The U. S. government, through PWA projects, is encouraging local school districts to replace unsafe buildings at this time. To stimulate immediate action the government has granted 45 per cent of the cost of two fire proof grade schools of the type of the new Washington school, as a gift to this community, on condition that this district pays 55 per cent of the cost. The Washington school was built and equipped for $100,000. Labor and material costs are slightly higher now, and the two proposed buildings may cost as much as $102,000 each. The government, therefore, has offered $92,454, as a gift, to apply on the cost of the two new schools. If this district will vote $112,000 to cover the 55 per cent that must be furnished locally. The Board of Education has accepted the government grant subject to the approval of the voters of this city. Allowing $13,000 for equipment, the Board of Education is asking permission to issue not to exceed $125,000 in bonds to build and fully equip two modern fireproof grade buildings and thus insure the safety of our children for generations to come.

While the two schools really form but one government building project, the voters must vote for or against three things, which will appear on the special ballot as follows:

The Issues.
First: To authorize the Board of Education of School District No. 117, of Morgan County, Illinois, to build a new grade school building in and for said School District on the present school site now owned and used by said School District for school purposes, and commonly known as the Lafayette School.

Second: To authorize the Board of Education of School District No. 117, of Morgan County, Illinois, to issue and sell bonds of School District No. 117, of Morgan County, Illinois, in the amount of $125,000, dated December 1st, 1935, to become due and payable in numerical orders as follows: $7,000 on December first in each of the years 1935 to 1946, both inclusive; $10,000 on December first in each of the years 1947 to 1950, both inclusive; $11,000 on December first in each of the years 1951 to 1953, both inclusive; and $12,000 on December first in each of the years 1954 and 1955, which bonds shall bear interest at the rate of four per cent per annum, interest payable semi-annually, on the first day of June and the first day of December in each year.

Voters who believe the government's offer of $92,454, as a gift toward two modern fireproof grade buildings, should not be rejected, should vote for all three propositions.

The case was completed yesterday afternoon and a verdict was reached after short deliberation by the members of the jury. The hearing of testimony in the case started yesterday morning before Judge Walter W. Wright.

Evidence of the plaintiff was submitted before a jury yesterday morning, the defense placing witnesses on the stand during the afternoon. Statter was represented by Attorney Trugnot of Springfield and Peters by Carl E. Robinson of this city.

The wreck occurred June 26, 1934, at North Main and Walnut streets, when Statter's car and a truck and trailer owned by Peters, a Rushville resident, collided. Paul Settles of Rushville was driving the truck, which was pulling out into the highway from a filling station.

Statter claims that a wagon obscured his vision so that he did not see the truck, and the defendant claims the automobile was traveling at a fast clip.

Jurors who rendered a decision in the case are J. R. McConnell, Harry Enke, David Brown, Charles Hogan, Raymond Miles, Harry Hall, Robert Keating, Over Wright, Russell Scroggins, Roy Fox, Hubert Rogers and Russell Lankton.

He said there are now 15,000 veterans drawing compensation, a number slightly more than five per cent of those who enlisted during the World War from Illinois. He stated that the hospitals are full of ex-service men, with mental cases increasing.

Poppy Program

The department service officer spoke of the poppy program carried out by the American Legion annually, stating that all poppies sold by the American Legion are made by disabled veterans. This year the paper flowers will be made at the Jacksonville State hospital.

The largest department at the hospital is the speaker, is the diagnostic center, where the cases of patients from all over the middle west are treated. ## PWA Quotes Figures From Wrong Project Aldermen Determine

A resolution to the effect that the Public Works Administration in Washington had quoted figures from the original application for a municipal light and power plant, instead of from the revised application, upon which the loan and grant of $420,000 was made, plans for which were approved and accepted at a special meeting of the council last night, was passed by the council and ordered sent to C. H. Bauer, state director of the PWA and Col. Clark, administrative assistant, in Washington. The resolution embodies a report of a committee's trip to Washington and recites that the reason given for the rejection of the water project was that approval of the project would have taken a possible $30,000 or $32,000 away from the revenues set up in the original application for the light project, a statement which Alexander Van Praag, Jr., of Decatur, engineer flatly denied and produced a copy of the amended application in support of his denial.

Belief that the rejection was based upon the original application for a municipal light and power project, along with substantial evidence of waterworks, was expressed by Dr. P. P. Clelland, who accompanied the delegation of Jacksonville men to Washington. Dr. McClelland recalled that Dr. Foreman, head of the power department, stated that the water department was to pay the power department about $42,000 a year for power, and that the water department was the only assured customer of the city light plant.

Makes Statement.
Van Praag gave a statement to the city clerk, which was later ordered sent along with the resolution protesting the action of the Public Works Administration in rescinding the waterworks project in which he said: "The schedule of income presented to the Public Works Administration in report of the revised application of the city of Jacksonville for loan and grant in the amount of $420,000, PWA docket No. 8305, for the construction of a complete municipal light and power plant and distribution system, which application has been approved by PWA, contained no income whatsoever from city of Jacksonville for either street lighting or water pumping purposes."

During his presentation of the proposed schedule of income, the engineer said the project was based on an income of $125,000 a year, estimated on half of the business now done by the power company in the city. Van Praag said that he was taking his figures from those submitted by the Illinois Power and Light company in Washington when the power company filed its application to the power plant project, stating that the revenue here was approximately $250,000 a year.

Special Counsel C. R. Gruney for the water project, told the council that the project has not been completely lost, but has been removed from the "A" list, where the money is, to the "B" list, where money is not. He expressed a hope that there was still time to secure the loan and grant for the purpose of making repairs to the waterworks and in extending the present water storage capacity.

Amend Waterworks Application.
The resolution adopted by the council provides for an amended application, in which two projects will be submitted. The first is the extension and rehabilitation of the present plant with the exception of the machinery for the purpose of furnishing power, and the second is for a project to rehabilitate the power producing machinery which will be acted upon if the municipal power plant is not carried to construction.

Subjected to minor verbal sniping, the plans for the power plant and distribution system were accepted and approved by the council with a 6 to 2 vote. Aldermen F. R. Mathews and W. H. Cocking voting against the resolution introduced by Special Counsel O. N. Foreman upon request of Alderman Ray Harmon. The engineer, special attorney, and Clayton W. Barber, of Springfield, who served as attorney during Springfield's campaign to secure a municipal light and power plant, assured the council that the plans could be changed later if it was deemed necessary, but that the resolution approving the project, the plans and specifications, had to be passed by the council before the plans and specifications could be made available for the inspection of the public, and before the council could vote on an order authorizing the construction of the plant, and the calling of an election to determine whether the city shall have the right to sell power to private consumers. Applause from a well filled spectator section of the council chamber greeted the vote.

Alderman Mathews objected to accepting the plans and specifications on the grounds that he had not had sufficient time to study them, and asked for 24 or 48 hours, during which he could look them over. Alderman Cocking said he realized that time was a factor in the power project, and said he was ready to come back tonight for another meeting but did not feel that he wanted to vote for adoption of the plans last night.

Find Error.
Revelation that the PWA authorities in Washington were basing their rejection of the waterworks on the original application for $500,000, not the amended application which was awarded, came out during the presentation of plans and specifications for the light and power project, under questioning from Alderman Mathews. Mathews asked the engineer if he had a copy of the proposed financing method, and when informed by the engineer that he did not have a copy with him, but that he would be glad to send one to Mathews.

The alderman then asked if it was not true that the proposed schedule of income included about $30,000 from the water department for pumping water, and received the flat statement that it did not.
